

Climate Campaigner: Fossil Fuels

2024 Environmental Investigation Agency UK | UK Reg. Charity No. 1182208 | Company No. 7752350 | Reg. in England and Wales

Welcome to EIA

The Environmental Investigation Agency (EIA) is a UK-based charity who investigates and campaigns against environmental crime and abuse.

Our undercover investigations expose transnational wildlife and forest crimes. We work to safeguard global marine ecosystems by addressing the threats posed by plastic pollution, bycatch and commercial exploitation of whales, dolphins and porpoises. Finally, our climate campaign aims to keep global warming below 1.5°C and meet the climate challenge through rapid, sustained reductions of emissions of all the major greenhouse gases, including methane, nitrous oxide and refrigiren greenhouse gases

Campaigning is central to our work as we strive to influence decision-makers for better protection of the environment. To achieve campaign goals, we use the findings of our unique research and investigations, along with our expertise, to pro-actively press for change.

Job Information

Department	Campaign Climate
Line manager:	Kim O'Dowd-Climate Campaigner
Place of work:	Hybrid Working – offices in London Islington 2 days per week (3 or 4 days a week during induction and probation period) and home working. Some travel will be required as part of the role.
Salary:	£37,000-£40,000 depending on experience
Hours	5 days/40 hours per week, including a one-hour paid break per day
Contract:	12-month fixed-term contract, with the possibility of renewal subject to funding availability.
Benefits:	Annual leave package of 25 days annual leave (+ days off between Xmas and New Year) + Bank Holidays + day off on your birthday, with an additional day per year up to a max of 29 days.
	4-8% pension contribution
	Mental health and wellbeing support programme
Further information:	To learn more about EIA, please visit: EIA
	For an informal discussion about the role please contact hr@eia- international.org
How to apply:	Application is by completion of an application form here .
	We want all candidates to shine in this process – please let hr@eia-international.org know if there is anything we can do to make sure the application process works for you.
	By applying for this role, you are stating that you are eligible to work in the UK. EIA UK is unable to apply for a Certificate of Sponsorship for this role.
	EIA UK is committed to being a fair and inclusive employer. We welcome applications from all backgrounds and appoint on merit.
Closing Date:	Friday 10 th January
Interview	Week commencing 20 th January
Date	Interviews will be held at our London Islington offices.
	If you are short-listed for an interview, we will reimburse the cost of your London travel at standard class public transport rates on the production of receipts.

Job Description

Role Purpose

The Climate Campaigner will be an essential member of EIA's Climate Campaign team, focusing primarily on advancing a managed, equitable phase-out of fossil fuels. This role centres on supporting the expansion of the Beyond Oil and Gas Alliance (BOGA), working to enhance its structure, broaden its membership, and identify effective pathways for developing a global governance framework on fossil fuels.

The Climate Campaigner will oversee the daily operations of key aspects of the fossil fuel campaign, ensuring the campaign strategy is delivered effectively and within established timelines. The role involves close collaboration and coordination, both within EIA and with external partners in the EU and globally.

Responsibilities

Advocacy & campaigning

- Attend relevant international meetings (including UNFCCC-related meetings), and represent the campaign to a range of contacts including policy makers, civil society, corporate/industry and the media
- Contribute to policy positions and submissions to policy makers and other stakeholders
- Develop diplomatic engagement strategies in advance of key UN meetings, including UNEA-7 and UNGA
- Develop and maintain a network of external contacts

Research, writing & publications

- Carry out detailed research into scientific, technical and policy aspects related to the campaign
- Contribute to the planning, writing and production of reports, briefings and other communications materials for varied external audiences

Strategic planning, monitoring & evaluation

• Engage with the production of the annual climate campaign strategy, including the communications strategy, and participate in EIA's long-term strategic planning processes

- Assist with campaign administration, including maintaining up to date campaign trackers and monitoring progress against key targets
- Assist in fundraising activities and donor reporting, including liaising with project partners and drafting narrative reports

Information management & internal coordination

• Monitor and share media or other communications of campaign interest with other staff.

Person Specification

Essential Experience, Skills and Competencies

Essential:

- Undergraduate degree or equivalent in a relevant field
- Understanding of climate change science and the role of fossil fuels
- Experience in advocacy and campaigning on global environmental policy
- Understanding of UNFCCC/UN General Assembly and UNEA processes
- Strong communication skills
- Professionalism and ability to work as part of a team
- Experience conducting detailed targeted research projects and tasks
- Ability to digest and integrate technical, scientific, policy and legal information as well as to relate it simply and persuasively to non-expert audiences
- Fluency in English, with knowledge of additional languages an advantage
- Experience in engaging and influencing diverse stakeholders, including policymakers, industry groups and the media
- Ability to travel at short notice

Desirable:

- Working knowledge of the fossil fuel industry and related issues (e.g., renewables, subsidies, carbon capture & storage etc.)
- Familiarity with the fossil fuel phase-out campaigning environment
- Self-starter with initiative
- Flexible and responsive to ever-changing dynamics and demands
- Experience analysing complex social, political, economic and environmental parameters in ways that inform EIA's work and communications
- Experience working with different cultures and languages